

The first International Startup of Novel Technologies in Drinking-Water Safety will be held on December 3-5, 2019 with the help of God Almighty and cooperation as well as endless effort of the Honorable Chancellor of the University, Vice-Chancellor of Research and Technology Affairs and other colleagues of Qazvin University of Medical Sciences. We are proud to invite all colleagues, professors, students, business owners, ideologists, and enthusiasts to participate in this startup. We will try to present the appropriate space and conditions for the scientific and executive programs, so that the necessary scientific discussions needed to advance and address the challenges of water related ideas and projects will be provided. We would like to thank the participation of all the nobles who will assist us in holding this magnificent event.
